86379: Worship and Celebration

(Elective Course, NQF 6, 20 Credits)

This course will be of use to all who are involved in the preparation and leading of worship, and to anyone who has an interest in helping the Christian church to worship God more effectively. It examines worship in the Bible and Christian worship down the centuries, across the denominations and in the African context. In it, you will be helped to analyse the structures of worship, create forms of worship that are appropriate to a range of contexts, and assess what it is that makes worship "work" better.

86391: Dialoguing with other Faiths

(Elective Course, NQF 6, 20 Credits)

This course will be of use to all who are involved in working with people of other faiths or who may wish to learn about other religions.

86395: A Christian Response to HIV and Aids

(Elective Course, NQF 6, 20 Credits)

This course explains the causes and effects of HIV and AIDS and explores some of the theological questions around the issue of HIV and AIDS. It encourages a practical response to the pandemic and contains material and ideas to organise a ministry to those infected and affected with HIV and AIDS.

fees

The fees for the next academic year are published from 01 October. They are available on the College web site (www.tee.co.za), are printed in the relevant yearbook, and can be e-mailed, posted, or faxed to you.

TEEC is a distance learning college which provides theological education for Christians involved in lay and ordained ministries in all of the major denominations. Students from all denominations are welcome to study with us. Studying by extension enables you to study at home and remain in your own local church and community context.

Courses are provided at Award, Certificate of Competence, Higher Certificate, Diploma and Degree levels. Leaflets for the other programmes of study are available on the College website or from TEEC. All of our courses are in line with the South African Government's recommendations regarding Outcomes Based Education and Training.

studying for ministry

If your TEEC studies are part of your training for ministry in your church, then please consult your denominational authorities for suggestions, recommendations or requirements regarding your study path. Also speak to your local minister about your studies as some of the courses will require you to do practical work in your local context.

how to register

A completed College Registration Form together with payment must be submitted between 01 November and 31 January. Late registrations are not accepted. A significant discount is offered for registrations before 31 December and a lesser discount for registrations before 15 January. This will also ensure the early arrival of your study materials, and give you extra time for your first assignments.

Registrations open: 1 November.

COURSE OUTLINES

85100: Getting to Know the Bible

(Compulsory Course, NQF 5, 20 Credits)

This course will help students to describe and critically reflect on the Bible and to apply exegetical and hermeneutical skills to Old and New Testament texts. It will also help students to describe, evaluate and interpret the Bible in their own context and to contemporary issues.

85130: Church History 1: An Introduction

(Compulsory Course, NQF 5, 20 Credits)

This course gives a broad outline of the key events in church history, relating them to the modern day context. It gives insight into the origins of Christianity, the splits in the church, the missionary outreach and the modern era. It explores the ways in which Christian faith and political expression are linked. Insight into past events develops insights into present events and helps students to make these connections.

85240: Systematic Theology 1: Understanding our Faith

(Compulsory Course, NQF 5, 20 Credits)

This course gives a basic understanding of the key Christian doctrines. Different interpretations of these doctrines are given so that students can see how context and other factors influence interpretation and understanding. In this way they are able to apply the doctrines to their own context and other contemporary contexts, reflecting on their relevance.

85250: Spirituality 1: Growing in Faith

(Compulsory Course, NQF 5, 20 Credits)

This course introduces a variety of ways of praying, meditating and growing spiritually. It helps people to reflect on their prayer experience and to deepen their spirituality. It will introduce students to a rule of life and give them the basic tools for spiritual reflection and growth.

85260: Ethics 1: Living our Faith

(Compulsory Course, NQF 5, 20 Credits)

This course is designed to give students the tools for ethical reflection and for making sound ethical decisions that are contextually appropriate and grounded in the Christian gospel.

85370: Practical Theology 1: Christian Being & Doing

(Compulsory Course, NQF 5, 20 Credits)

This course is designed as an introduction to the field of practical theology. It focuses mainly on the church community and how to organize ministry in the church. This includes preaching, worship, education and pastoral needs. Students are given basic skills in this area with a view to helping them choose elective courses in those areas. It includes a transformative and missiological aspect.

86111: Old Testament 2: Exploring Politics, Prophets & Power

(Elective Course, NQF 6, 20 Credits)

This course is designed to raise awareness of political issues and to help students make connections between the power and politics in the Bible and their present contexts. In order to do this, students will learn how to apply exegetical and hermeneutical skills.

86123: New Testament 2: Applying New Testament Narratives

(Elective Course, NQF 6, 20 Credits)

This course traces the background to the writing of the gospels and the purposes of the gospel writers. It helps students to describe, evaluate and interpret for other in their own context, the life and ministry of Jesus of Nazareth.

86135: Church History 2: Southern African Church History

(Elective Course, NQF 6, 20 Credits)

This course looks at the history of Christianity on the African continent as well as the history of South African Christianity from the 17th Century onwards. It helps students to see the relevance of history for their own context.

86263: Ethics 2: Applying Ethical Principles

(Elective Course, NQF 6, 20 Credits)

This course will be useful to people who seek to make informed, defensible decisions within the framework of Christian theology and ethics. This course applies the theories, skills and processes of Christian ethics to the specific areas of sexual morality and economic ethics.

86371: Pastoral Care 2

(Elective Course, NQF 6, 20 Credits)

This course will help to develop basic skills of pastoral care within a clear moral framework and competency in applying those skills in church and community.

86375: Christian leadership & Management

(Elective Course, NQF 6, 20 Credits)

This course will help you develop your skills in leadership and management - including financial management - in church contexts. It aims to develop skills, heighten accountability and increase competence and efficiency.

86376: Passing on the Faith: Youth Ministry

(Elective Course, NQF 6, 20 Credits)

This course covers the basic principles of youth ministry including the theological basis and history of youth ministry. It will explore what it means to minister to youth in the context of Southern Africa and the issues faced by youth and how the Church can address these in an effective, Christian and relevant way. It looks at a variety of programmes used in youth ministry and explores various models of youth ministry.

86377: Teaching the Faith

(Elective Course, NQF 6, 20 Credits)
